BREAKS AGAINST GRIMES

Robins' Star Hurler Permits
Only Seven Hits But Fails in Pinches.

League Park, Cleveland, Ohio.—
The Cleveland Indians are champions of the baseball world.
They were crowned on League park field this afternoon when they took the fourth straight game on their home grounds from the Brooklyn National league champions by a score of 3 to 0, making the series count
five games to two in their favor.

Stanley Coveleskie, the Polish
spitball expert, won a niche in Cleveland's baseball hall of fame for himself by pitching his third victory over the Robins and shutting them out with five hits. In his three games against the Brooklyn, Coveleskie allowed a total of 15 hits—five in each game—and permitted his opponents to cross the plate but twice.

When the game was over thousands of fans swarmed to the front of the grandstand and staged one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen in baseball. The moment that Sewell and Wamby retired the last Brooklyn player for the final out of the series, Manager Tris Speaker dashed to the stands from his place in center field and embraced his gray-haired mother, who occupied a box.
Mrs. Speaker threw her arms around the neck of her stalwart son and they kissed each other while the thousands of fans who had swarmed in his wake broke into a frenzy of cheers.

Charles Ebberts, owner of the Brooklyn club, forced his way to the box warrior. He then congratulated the leader of the club that has downed his club.

The big crowd on the field after thunderous cheers, finally melted away.

Today's game was another hard one for Burleigh Grimes, who pitched for Brooklyn, to lose. The breaks were all against him.

However, the Robins pitcher caused the first real break that lost him the game when he threw a ball away at second base in the fourth inning.

It was in this round that the Indians broke through for their first score.
After Smith had retired on a roll-out to Konechey, Gardner singled and went to third on W. Johnston's rap to right center. Sewell then filed Myers for the second out. The Robins conferred and it was decided that Grimes should pitch to the hard hitting Steve O'Neill who was at bat, instead of passing him to get at Coveleskie. Johnston started for second on the pitch. Miller begged to Grimes who hurried about to catch Johnston.
Johnston came to dead stop to give Gardner a chance for a dash to the plate. Gardner remained anchored at third, however, and when Johnston pitched for second base Grimes threw wildly to head off and Gardner romped
in with the first run.

Cleveland's big stick was brought out in the fifth inning and another run resulted. Coveleskie fanned, Jamieson dumped a hit in front of the plate on which Miller made a game
try, but his peg pulled Konechey off the bag. Jamieson stole second and scored on Speaker's terrific smash to right center. Griffith made a heroic effort to capture the drive. He got his glove on it but it went on through.

The big stick was in evidence in the seventh. O'Neill doubled but was caught between second and third on Coveleskie's roller to Grimes. The pitcher went to second during the run-up and scored when Jamieson came through with a two base smash.

First Inning
Brooklyn—Olson popped to Gardner.
Sheehan up. Ball 1, strike 1, called.
Sheehan flied to Jamieson who came in back of the infield to make the catch.
Griffith up. Strike 1, called. Griffith safe at first when Coveleskie dropped a toss from Johnston on his roller. Wheat up. Strike
1, called. Wheat popped to Wamby.
No runs, no hits, one error.

Coveleskie lost no time in opening up with his splitter. He was breaking wildly and the first four Brooklyn
batters were unable to connect.

Cleveland—Jamieson up. Strike 1, called. Strike 2, Jamieson sent a high bouncer to Konechey who raced to first base ahead of him. Wamby up.
Wamby flied to Wheat. Speaker up.
He popped to Sheehan. No runs, no
hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Brooklyn—Myers up. Strike 1, swung. Strike 2, Ball 1. Foul. Myers out. Sewell to W. Johnston on a snappy play. Konechey up. Strike 1, called. Foul strike 2. Konechey out.
Gardner to W. Johnston, on a high bouncer down the third base line. Kil-duff up. Strike 1. He attempted to bunt. Strike 2, swung. Kilduff out.

Cleveland—Smith up. Ball 1, Ball
2. Strike 1, called. Smith out on a beautiful fielding play by Kilduff who came in for a slow roller and made a snap throw. Gardner safe at first. Sheehan took his grounder and threw high to Konechey who tried to stop the ball by a great leap. The ball rolled off Konechey's glove against a field box where it was touched by a fan and Gardner was waved down to second base. Johnston
up. Ball 1, Ball 2, Ball 3. Strike 1, called. Strike 2, W. Johnston walked.
Sewell up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1, Ball 2. Strike 2, Mitchell went out to warm up for Brooklyn. Foul. Ball 3, Sewell flied to Griffith who made a pretty running catch near the foul line. Gardner was held on second and
W. Johnston at first. O'Neill up. Strike
1, swung. Strike 2, called. Foul. Foul.

VICE PRESIDENT OF ERIN ARRESTED

Sinn Feiners Kidnap Warden of Cork Jail and Slay One Soldier.

By United Press Leased Wire

DUBLIN.—Five police officers were killed today by Sinn Feiners. Two officers were shot dead during a raid on a house at Drumcondra this morning. One civilian was wounded. The assailants escaped.

Three constables were killed near Ballinacorney when they were ambushed.

London.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney

completed sixty days of fasting with his condition almost unchanged, according to the latest Sinn Fein bulletin. This was the first day of his strike.

Relatives were said to have abandoned hope of obtaining his release.

London.—Sinn Fein attacks on police and British officials continued yesterday with the shooting of one soldier and the kidnapping of Warden
Griffith of the Cork jail.

The soldier was killed near Kantuk, county Cork, and six others were wounded in an ambush row at Cross roads.

The only move made by the government during the day was the arrest of Father O'Flannigan, "vice-president of the Irish republic."

His arrest immediately following Premier Lloyd George's announcement that stern measures will be adopted if necessary, was taken to mean the government is ready to proceed with such a program.

Three outbreaks occurred in Belfast last night, after much sniping at police. Police broke up the mobs.

Sewell to W. Johnston. No runs, no
hits, no errors.

Coveleskie looked better even than he did in his two previous winning games. His splitter was breaking with a lightning jerk that had the Robins breaking their backs.

JUBILATION IN INDIAN VILLAGE TODAY

REED SEES PROOF OF HIS ASSERTION

Missouri Senator Declares Wilson Speech Bears Out
His Charges.

By United Press Leased Wire

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—President Wilson's announcement of a report of the proceedings of the eighth plenary session of the peace conference is a confession he promised to "send the American army and navy across the sea" to guarantee boundaries in Rumania and Serbia, Senator James A.
Reed, Missouri, democrat, declared
today.

In a statement commenting on the report of the session as given out at the White House, Reed said:

"For the life of me, I cannot see how the stenographic report helps the president's case. It is a complete verification of the charges heretofore made."

"Was the president standing and looking into the eyes of the Serbian and Rumanian delegates and telling them they expected us to send our armies and navies if any settlement of the covenant was not observed, and at the same time not meaning to imply that the United States was assuming that obligation?"

"How absurd it is to protest that we have not promised to send our armies and navies across the ocean."

yard near Santa Maria del Tule, in tween 5,000 and 6,000 years old.

FEAR TERRORISTS WILL BURN PLANTS

Cotton Mills Threatened Unless They Close Up While
Prices Are Low.

By United Press Leased Wire

Atlanta, Ga.—Wide spread destruction by night-riding terrorists was feared by cotton men here today.

Douglas county authorities offered $300 reward for apprehension of the riders who posted warnings on cotton gins they would be burned if they operate while cotton prices were below 40 cents.

Sheriff Daggett, of Douglas county,
appealed to Gov. Dorey for assistance.
The governor declared he could do nothing under the law until the threats are carried out.

Guards are being employed at many gins. Posting of threats in widely scattered sections of the cotton states has been reported here, but authorities say they do not think the situation serious.

HARDING STARTS ON LONGEST TRIP

Root's Attitude on League Results in Calling Off Visit to New York.

By United Press Leased Wire

Marion, Ohio.—Refreshed by a full day's rest on the front porch, Senator W. G. Harding was to leave Marion this morning on his southern speaking trip, probably the last extensive tour of the campaign. He will make night speeches at Chattanooga,
Louisville, Thursday, Indianapolis
Friday and St. Louis Saturday. Day speeches are scheduled for a score of points.

Announcement from New York that the speaking trip into the east has been called off confirmed intimations prevailing here for several days.

Senator Harding for various reasons objected to it. Madison Square Garden had been reserved for the night of Oct. 27. Some of Harding's advisors feared complications at New York, the chief one being the possibility that Elihu Root, a strong league advocate, might preside at the meeting and thus emphasize a divergence of views on the league between himself and Senator Harding. Believing his attitude on the league had been misrepresented in some press dispatches, sent out on his Des Moines speech, Senator Harding issued a formal statement restating his position.

It is, he said, against the present league, but in favor of some association that will tend to prevent war and promote better understanding between nations.

FARMER SLAYS CHILDREN AND GIVES SELF UP

Chloroforms Two Youngsters
While Wife and Baby
Are in Bed.

WORRIED OVER ILLNESS

Murder Is Committed While Children Work in Field
With Their Father.

By United Press Leased Wire

Lansing, Mich.—While his wife was lying ill in bed with her six day old baby, Earl Roop, a farmer, killed their other two children by chloroforming them, he told Sheriff Silsbee
today.

The two children, girls, two and three years of age, were murdered
while in a field with their father where he was working, according to the sheriff.

Roop in his confession, the sheriff said, told how after killing the children, he buried their bodies in the muck and water of Red Cedar river.

When he returned home, he told his wife the children were safe, gave her some money and then walked to Lansing where he surrendered to the sheriff two hours later.

Sheriff Silsbee first doubted the man's story. Roop took the officials to the spot where he said he buried the bodies. The sheriff dug up the bodies.

Roop, according to the sheriff, said he was despondent and worried a great deal over the sickness in the family and the amount of care and attention which the children needed. He is 31 years old.

Mrs. Roop was near death from the shock and upon her recovery hinges
the life of the newly born babe, physicians said.

Japanese immigration and anti-Japanese legislation in California were continued at the state department today.
Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Tokyo, and Ambassador Shidehara, of Japan, were carrying on the negotiations. While the state department and the Japanese embassy maintain the strictest secrecy, negotiations were believed progressing toward a settlement.
Japan may take the position all laws discriminating against her subjects already in the United States, such as the existing anti-alien land law in California, must be wiped out. It was understood here today.
The proposed California law for prohibition even of land leasing by Japanese also would be included in this demand.
The United States is not entirely satisfied with the "gentlemen's agreement" by which Japan voluntarily undertakes to restrict immigration and wants an absolute prohibition of Japanese labor immigration. Revision of the "gentlemen's agreement" was believed to be under study.

RAILS OVERCOME MANY OBSTACLES TO GOOD SERVICE

More Freight Is Being Moved Now Than Ever Before, Officials Say.

(By Russ Stimson)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Buffalo, N. Y.—The railroads of the United States are now moving freight more miles a day than ever before.
This is the statement of the Railway Executives' Association. The same report adds:
"The roads are reducing the number of cars in bad order and they are not only getting heavier loading per car, but are securing, through the co-operation of shippers, quicker loading and unloading."
Now, after 10 days spent in the offices of one railway and aboard its freight trains and in its yards, I can understand why the Nickel Plate Road is one of the railways which the Executives' Association says is moving its freight rapidly.
When Uncle Sam took his hand from the throats of the nation's locomotives, he left the owners of the roads more troubles than the oldest rail-roader had known.
Many Obstacles
Regardless of the merits of federal control, no one seriously denies that when the railroads went back to private hands last March, these were the conditions:
1—Thousands of freight cars and miles of track out of repair.
2—Labor "slack" and careless.
3—Congestion of freight and a lack of cooperation on the part of shippers.
Hardly had the roads begun their work of reconstruction when the switchmen's strike broke and the whole machinery of railroad operation was disorganized.
Now seven months of private ownership with the incentive of competition and the possibility of reward for efficiency and loyalty, have resulted in the almost complete "come-back" of America's railways.

All Are Optimistic
From President J. J. Berner, who gave me the letters which enabled me to ride the freight trains of the Nickel Plate, to the brakemen of the cars, I found the same spirit of optimism for the future.
Before I left the Stony Island terminal yards of the Nickel Plate at Chicago on a freight train trip to Buffalo I spent several days in a short kindergarten course, in the great mystery of railroading. Ben Place, a freight representative, who tried to find a car for me, and brother officials, gave me their views.
"Bad order cars terminal congestion and delay on the part of consignees is responsible for most freight delays," they told me. "Things are better now than they were and we have cleared our own yards rather thoroughly."
"It is hard to make some shippers unload their cars and lift the bills of lading because of the money shortage. Some of them have no storage room and would rather pay demurrage on the cars than move the goods. They're better now but still we have trouble."
Berner told me that the little shippers and consignees were the greatest "demurrage offenders."

GLENCOE SOLVES TEACHER PROBLEM

Women Raise Enough Money to Build Home for School Teachers.

(By Hal Cochran)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Glencoe, Ill.—Towns and cities all over the country have been writing in to the little town of Glencoe, Ill., suburb of Chicago, for the solution of the scarcity-of-teachers problem.
For Glencoe has solved it.
Recently the village was threatened with a famine in school teachers. They were fast leaving with no intention of returning. And they gave as their reason the shortage of homes and the high rents.
Then the women of the town got busy!
Raise $30,000
Some $30,000 was subscribed by Glencoe citizens, of which $12,000 was used for the purchase of an old building known as Glen-gables. It had been an eyesore to the village for years but with $18,000 put into improvements it is a real answer to the big problem that confronted the town.
There are two, three and four-room suites with kitchen and bath in each. The furnishings are unique in that they were obtained as a result of a ransacking party held in the attic of Glencoe. Old, stored-away furniture has been made to look like new. Cobwebbed trunks have given forth plenty of draperies and trimmings. The women of the town worked all summer getting things into shape.
They'll Come Back
And the teachers? They have come back, of course! In fact, the school marms regard Glencoe as a bonanza. The rent will be fair.
That's why other towns and cities around the country want to know how Glencoe solved the important problem.

"Sometimes a huckster," he said, "will use our cars as his storeroom and salesroom, block a valuable track and keep that car out of service longer than he should."
No Idle Term
I found that "co-operation of the shipper" is no idle term or matter of theory. Much of the railways' efficiency depends upon the shipper. The Interstate Commerce Commission now advises that all cars be loaded above their marked carrying capacity. "That means that a car stenciled '80,000 pounds' shall be loaded to 85,000 or even 90,000 pounds."
The same is true in the matter of prompt loading and unloading, and along the line I found many other matters, well-known to shippers, in which they can assist the road, usually at little inconvenience to themselves.

CIVIC WORKERS TO ATTEND MEETINGS

Many Plan to Go to Oshkosh Social Conference Opening Tomorrow.

Many Appleton civic workers and community leaders are planning to go to Oshkosh Wednesday to attend the Wisconsin Conference of Social work which is in session for three days. They intend to obtain as many ideas and suggestions as possible for the social program for Appleton this year.

Leading social workers of the nation are to be heard at the meetings. Dr. Graham Taylor, Chicago, head resident of the Chicago Commons and director of the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy is one of the big speakers. There will also be Dr. Valeria Parker, Hartford, Conn., educational director of the American Social Hygiene association and William W. Hodson, Minneapolis, executive secretary of the Minnesota Children's bureau.

The Rev. Frederic Siedenburgh, Chicago, dean of the Loyola School of Social work, will tell how social training should be promoted. Allen T. Burns, New York, president of the national conference of social work; Dr. V. V. Anderson of the national committee on mental hygiene, New York; Fred Johnson of the Community Union, Detroit, and many others are scheduled to give valuable information and instruction.

The conference will be divided into sections on rural social work, public health, mental and social hygiene, industrial relations, family welfare, public recreation, children, Red Cross work, public charities and delinquency. Special round tables will be conducted on these topics Friday afternoon. Special luncheons will also be held for groups of workers doing similar service such as representatives of women's clubs, leagues of women voters, librarians, public officials, Y. M. C. A. workers, Salva-

SACRED HEART SOCIETY ADDS TO SICK BENEFIT

Sick benefits for members of Sacred Heart society are to be increased to $10 a week for class A members and $10 a week for class B members, as the result of a unanimous vote at the society meeting Sunday afternoon at the club rooms. The new schedule goes into effect January 1, 1921.

Class B members will be those paying double dues so as to entitle them to double sick benefit in case of illness. It is optional with the members as to which class they prefer.

Plans for another membership campaign to be held later were discussed and other routine business was transacted.

tion Army workers and others. They will be able to exchange ideas on subjects of interest to themselves. Mrs. George A. Buckstaff, Oshkosh, has charge of the luncheons and round table meetings.

The Red Cross features of the gathering will be of especial interest to Appleton in view of the changing program of community activity. Many representatives of the local chapter plan to attend all or part of the sessions. A special conference is to be held on Tuesday, the day previous to the general convention, at which Dr. Livingston Farrand and F. C. Munroe, national general manager, will speak in addition to representatives of the central division, Chicago.

OFFICE OF HOME SERVICE MOVED

War Work and Health Centers Will Be Merged as Part of New Program.

The Home Service office of the American Red Cross and the health center have merged, and will operate in the future under the name of the Red Cross service.

The permanent quarters will be at what was formerly the health center office at 827 Appleton street, over the Spector jewelry store. The Home Service department has been removed to the new location from the First National bank building, and Mrs. R. W. Wells, executive secretary, and Miss Marie Roemer, assistant, will be found at the new quarters from now on.

The move is part of the peace time arrangement which the Outagamie chapter of the Red Cross is now planning out. All activities will be conducted under one head. Detailed announcement of the change is expected in a few days. The former home service telephone number, 335, will now be for all Red Cross service, including the city and county nurses.

Miss Pae Eberhardt, who is teaching at Channing, Mich., is home for two weeks because of an epidemic of scarlet fever in that locality.

POLISH WAR ADDED TO JEWS' TROUBLES

Appleton People Are Contributing to Fund for Relief of Sufferers.

Just as the Jewish Relief Committee in eastern and central Europe was ready to enter into the practical rehabilitation and reconstruction of the stricken areas so as to prevent the pauperization of the millions of innocent sufferers, the Bolshevik-Polish conflict ensued and the unfortunate and destitute peoples were in a worse plight than ever. Huge sums of money are required to give these people the bare necessities of life, and heroic efforts are being made to permit the children to survive the frightful conditions that have been their lot for more than five years.

More than one-half of the Jewish population of the entire world is included among the sufferers in these two countries of eastern and central Europe. The Jewish Relief Committee, however, does not confine its work entirely to the Jews. Recognizing that charity knows no creed, it gives to Jew and non-Jew alike. Because of the heroic work of this committee is has received the complete endorsement of Herbert Hoover, of American Relief Committee, Henry P. Davison, of the Red Cross, the State Department at Washington, and all accredited relief organizations in the stricken area with whom it co-operates in the great humanitarian work being carried on.

Hon. Louis Marshall, of New York, who represented the minority nations at the peace conference is at the head of the American Jewish Relief Committee. Associated with him are Nathan Straus and Oscar Straus, of New York; Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, and other leading American Jews. Jacob H. Schiff, whose death occurred recently, was most active in this movement. The distribution of the funds are under the direction of Felix Warburg, noted New York banker, who is in Europe on a Jewish relief mission at the present time.

Joseph Tildan is chairman of a local campaign to raise funds for this splendid cause. He feels confident that Appleton will do its full share to bring relief to the innocent and destitute war victims abroad.

Subscriptions can be made at any Appleton bank.

PAYS BACK TAXES ON CENTER SWAMP LAND

Outagamie county was enriched Monday thru the payment by Attorney Garri Thorn of Oshkosh of $2,690.75 taxes for 1918 and 1919 on several hundred acres of swamp lands in the vicinity of the new peat factory in the town of Grand Chute.

CHILDREN'S BOARD IN EVERY COUNTY

1,000 Delegates Are Attending Social Work Conference in Oshkosh.

Madison, Wis.—The establishment of a children's bureau for Wisconsin is one of the most important matters that are being discussed at the state conference of social work now being held in Oshkosh. Minnesota and Ohio are the only states that have established such bureaus so far and the Wisconsin plan is to be modeled after the one used in Minnesota.

A legislative bill, which if approved by the state board of health and the state board of control is to be submitted to the legislature this winter provides for a bureau which shall exercise such duties as are necessary for the proper care, education, protection, or reformation of dependent, neglected or delinquent children. In each county of the state, the director of the bureau is to appoint a committee to carry on the county aspects of the bureau's work.

Other measures which are included in the bill are the care of children born of unmarried parents, the adoption of children, the status of adopted children, the annulment of adoption,

MORE RESERVATIONS FOR LANDING DAY FEAST

More reservations have been received by Dr. W. J. Foote, grand knight of the Knights of Columbus for the annual Landing day banquet at Elk club Wednesday evening Oct. 13. It is believed that more than 150 guests will be served.

Martin H. Carmody, Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme deputy grand knight, will be the principal speaker. He is expected to discuss impressions created by his recent trip to Europe with the American Knights of Columbus committee which assisted in the unveiling of a statue of La Fayette at Metz.

John Martin, Green Bay, also a member of the committee, is also expected to deliver a brief address. Vocal and instrumental numbers will provide entertainment during the dinner which is to start at seven o'clock.

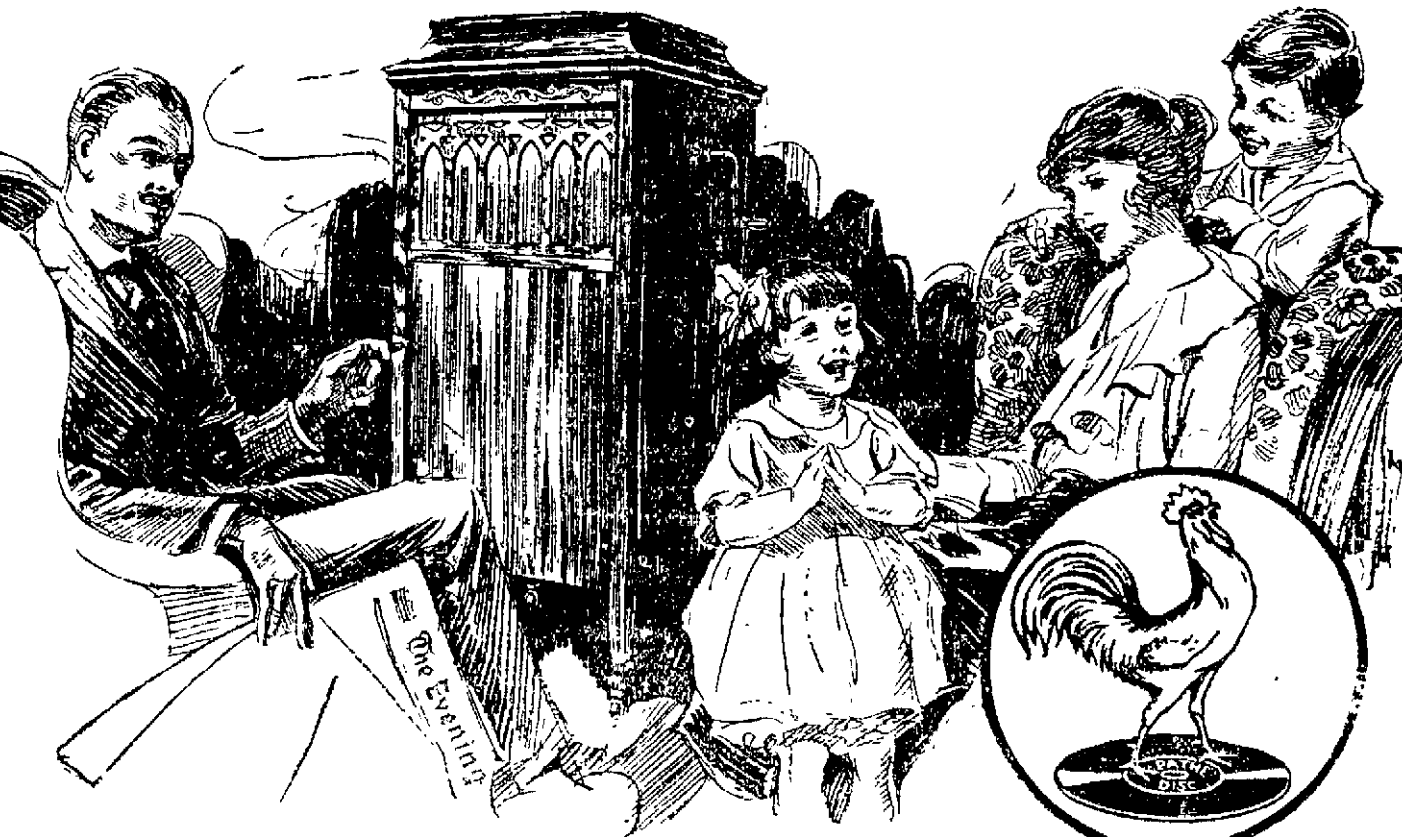

More than one thousand persons are attending the conference, the largest number that has ever attended a social work conference in the state.

Two More Reasons for this Nation-wide Demonstration Sale of Pathe Phonographs and Records

The first is: Because we and the manufacturers who are co-operating with us in the conduct of this sale, were afraid of embargoes and transportation tie-ups this fall and were determined to make our shipments before shipping channels became blocked with the crops and coal, as we were going to make sure that no patron of ours should lack the desired talking machine this Christmas.

This sale was planned months ago. The phonographs were manufactured months ago. All details and plans were worked out months ago, and the phonographs allotted for this sale in Appleton are now on our floors for you to make your free and unrestricted choice.

$25 Worth of Genuine Pathe Records FREE

The second is—Because the Pathe Company want to emphasize to the persons who wish to buy and own a phonograph, that phonograph manufacturers are not profiteers.

The Pathe Company is one of the largest manufacturers of phonographs and phonograph records in the world. It is not, and never has been, a profiteer.

Its phonographs and records are sold today at a price which more closely approximates the good old before-the-war prices than any other merchandise of a similar nature. And it will take a long time and a lot of reducing before other commodities come down to the fair and reasonable prices of Pathe phonographs.

While nearly all commodities, even the barest necessities, have advanced to double their former prices, yet here is the genuine Pathe Phonograph, Model 10, today, 100 of them for you to select from, with complete equipment, everything necessary to your full enjoyment of your machine. $25 worth of Pathe Records will be delivered to you at once, right away, as soon as you choose the phonograph you want.

And what is more, you may spread your payments out over an entire year. You practically name your own terms. Tell us what you want to pay down as your first or initial payment. The balance can be made in weekly or monthly payments.

These are the facts that prompted this stupendous sale which is planned to be held from coast to coast. They constitute two of the main reasons for organizing this great demonstrating selling campaign, and they afford you a most extraordinary opportunity to own a phonograph you will be ever proud of, at a price and upon terms you should jump at in eagerness to procure.

The Finest Pie

Homes ever serve—Real Lemon Pie

The queen of pies is lemon pie, yet how rarely people serve it.

The home-made pie takes time and trouble, so lemon pie days come rather far apart.

Now the makers of Jiffy-Jell are making Jiffy-Pie. This is real lemon pie at its best, made to serve easily and quickly.

It comes in a package, almost ready-made. The sugar is there, the egg yolk, powdered milk, corn starch and tapioca.

The lemon essence—made from lemon peel—comes sealed in a glass bottle, so its freshness can't escape.

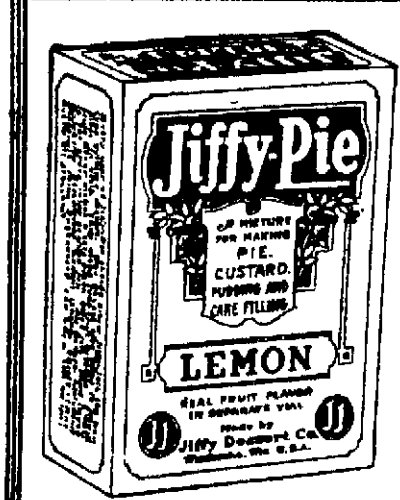

Add water, cook a little, and you have a lemon pie filler such as only few can make.

The users of Jiffy-Jell will know it must be right. That fruity dessert, with its flavors in vials, has won millions by its quality.

The same experts make this Jiffy-Pie. The same ideals are behind it. If you like one, you will like the other.

Learn this better way to make good lemon pie. The pies you make cost more than this. They take much time. And you have rare skill if you make an equal pie.

Let this way help you serve them easier and oftener.

Get it now
We pay your grocer for the first pie—get it now. See how easily and quickly you can make a pie. Compare it with your own pies. Note how your folks enjoy it.

BLAINE AND MILITARISM

John J. Blaine, Non-Partisan league candidate for governor, says his opponent, Col. McCoy, is a militarist. We take it that Mr. Blaine bases this charge on two grounds, one of which he specifies, namely that McCoy favors universal military training, and one which he does not specify, namely, that he was for the United States' declaring war upon Germany and supported the nation throughout the conflict with his services.

Mr. Blaine is against military training. He probably is opposed to any effective preparation by the United States for war, or for meeting the emergencies which may arise from war, domestic or external. Without question the millions of young men of the country who served in the army or navy during the war are best qualified to pass judgment upon the benefits and advantages of military training. They were the beneficiaries of it and without an exception they profited by it. They know its value to the nation from the defensive standpoint, and they know its value to the individual and to collective society in health, discipline and the inculcation of patriotism and loyalty.

The American Legion at its recent national convention indorsed universal military training. It did so because it knew the practical side of this proposal. It did so because it understood the potential necessities of national defense and how to meet them. It did so because it wants to see America strong as well as right. It did so in behalf of America's young manhood. Mr. Blaine has no use for military training, and for that matter probably little that the American Legion represents.

Mr. Blaine stands upon La Follette's war record. To him La Follette is the personification of American patriotism. Without doubt every one who was for the war with Germany is a militarist. It may even strike him that every person who served in that war wholeheartedly was a militarist, and that every one who believes in effective national defense is a militarist. Col. McCoy is that kind of an American citizen, and he is therefore, in the eyes of Blaine and the Non-Partisan league, a militarist. Of course Mr. Blaine knows this has no relation to militarism, that Col. McCoy is as far from being a militarist as any other peaceful American citizen. He is simply employing the term because Col. McCoy wears shoulder straps and fought in the late war. He believes this kind of propaganda will "go good" in Wisconsin.

OUR "FOUR NAVIES"

Mr. Hoover said recently that "we have the most antiquated organization and administration in our government that we have in any kind of activity in the United States" and that it is "woefully inefficient as the result of 100 years of accumulated negligence. In a speech on the same day Mr. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for vice president made a similar criticism, giving an example of the waste caused by division of responsibility and duplication in the service, as follows: "In the matter of the navy, for example, few people think about the fact that there are actually four navies. There is the navy under the department of the same name, the army transport service, the coast guard, and the department of geodetics which operates lighthouses, dredges and miscellaneous craft. The army transport service has more vessels afloat than the navy proper. Such a condition can not but make for extravagant waste. During the last year it cost the taxpayers at least 15 per cent of $6,000,000,000 for 'overhead' and other incidentals in connection with the maintaining of the antiquated departmental system now obtaining in almost every branch of the government. Again and again we went before the lawmakers seeking statutory authority to go ahead and reorganize many departments which are draining the public purse. For reasons purely political, however, we received no help."

If the need of reorganization on more modern lines has been ignored for a whole or half a century, who is to blame. It is true that the Democrats had congressional majorities from 1913 to 1918 but the Republicans were in power 44 years out of the 52 years between 1861 and 1913. Obviously both parties have neglected this important matter. Was it because no political capital was to be made out of it and other reforms were better party investments?

THE PRESIDENT MISQUOTED

The controversy between the White House and Senator Spencer of Missouri over a statement attributed to Mr. Wilson in an address he made at the eighth plenary session of the Paris peace conference ends where it was perfectly obvious it would end when the president issued a denial of the statement. Our presidents, of whatever party, are not in the habit of misrepresenting facts or of uttering falsehoods. It is easy for, and it seems to be the habit of, irresponsible politicians to make wild and reckless assertions which will not bear investigation.

Many unfair and palpably distorted accusations have been made against President Wilson, like those made against Lincoln, Roosevelt and others of our presidents who served in critical periods of the nation's history, but for the most part they are generalities which are accepted or rejected at the time as the prejudices or animosities of the public may incline. The terms "usurper," "autocrat," "dictator," and the like have been applied to most of our strong presidents; even worse epithets have been vented upon some of our greatest.

Mr. Wilson was accused by Senator Spencer of having said at the peace conference, directing his remarks to the representatives of Serbia, Rumania and Czechoslovakia, "if any nation ever invades your territory I will send the American army across the seas to defend your boundary lines." Mr. Wilson sent a telegram to the senator characterizing the statement as "false." In reply Senator Spencer called for the stenographic record, alleging the notes on the eighth plenary session reported the president as saying: "You must not forget that it is force that is the final guarantee of the peace of the world. If the world is again troubled the United States will send to this side of the ocean their army and their fleet." The president has given out the stenographic record of his address and this is what he said:

How can a power like the United States, for example, and I can speak for no other—after signing the treaty of it containing elements which they do not believe will be permanent, go three thousand miles away across the seas and report to its people that it has made a settlement of the peace of the world? It cannot do so. And yet there underlies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example, of Rumania, and of Czechoslovakia and of Serbia that if any covenants of this settlement are not observed, the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed.

The incident ends with establishment of the fact that the president was misquoted, that an entirely false statement which he never uttered, was attributed to him. The canard originated in the senate, where there is so much loose talk one seldom knows what to believe or what discount to place upon political debate. The president made no promises of the character alleged, he was simply stating a principle applicable to the covenant of an entirely different character. The country will do well to remember that presidents, who are responsible for what they say, always know what they say and do not misrepresent their utterances.

FED CHICKENS HOP, HE CLAIMS

San Francisco. — Zepponini is suing his neighbor, Gus Ruske, because his Zepponini chickens invaded Ruske's garden. The chickens came back but they were never the same, according to the story the court heard. The roosters cackled and the hens crowed and neither of 'em would lay eggs. "He fed 'em hop when they went for his cabbages," Zepponini declared.

HE'S YANKED FROM ALTAR TO JAIL!

Martinsburg, W. Va. — David Gelford Smith was yanked from the altar to jail, when Miss Myrtle Loudon, the girl he didn't marry, told officials he was an escaped convict. Smith, while boarding at the home of Gabriel Vaughn, courted Miss Loudon, but when it came time for wedding bells, took Vaughn's daughter instead.

DEMENTIA OUIJA

A woman with nothing to do—and that is the curse of too many women today—acquired a Ouija board and passed many hours in communion with it. After a few days she could hear voices and the sounds of all kinds of machinery, also comical expressions that kept her laughing for hours. These periods of good nature were interrupted frequently by periods of depression and melancholy, when she would shed tears over nothing at all. She complained, too, that the Ouija board brought to her ears many vulgar and profane words which she could not repeat.

Now the question arose in this woman's husband's mind whether she was entirely sane. But not until the strange behavior had continued for about a year. It proved that she was quite insane. And the husband insists that it was all brought on by the Ouija board.

Is there a form of insanity which may be termed dementia Ouija?

There undoubtedly is, but the case described is not an example.

The insanity with which this woman was afflicted was coming to her, even had she never heard of the Ouija board. The Ouija board was not a factor, but merely an instrument of her mental aberration. Dementia Ouija usually does not manifest itself in the form of frank delusions or hallucinations, but rather in an insidious way. The victim first regards the instrument with amusement, later with interest, still later with mystification and finally, when the mind is sufficiently debased by the insane business, with actual reverence.

Between sanity and insanity there is no clear or sharply drawn dividing line such as courts of law would have. We are all more or less sane or insane. Unless we strive to maintain good balance our streak of insanity is liable to show up on us at any time. The Ouija board craze brings out the streak in a lot of otherwise fairly sane individuals. If, now and then, one goes quite dippy over the Ouija board, that is merely coincidence. Nevertheless, it is a sin and shame that people dare even admit the waste of time they devote to the Ouija board. That sort of inexcusable extravagance ought to cost about forty dollars a second.

Idleness is the sole reason for the existence of this craze. Idle women are the devil's own specialty. When he contrived the Ouija board he certainly knew his business.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Rubber Pants

Are rubber pants detrimental in any way to a baby's health? (Mrs. D. E.)

ANSWER—Yes. No rubber garment or article of clothing should be used. The diapers or pants should be made of absorbent material, not of water-proof material.

Boy Legs

Can boy legs be corrected by exercise? If so, how? What do you think of "We Young Men" written by Hans Wegener? (W. K.)

ANSWER—The exercise of walking often corrects bow legs in infants. But exercise will not change the shape of the legs after infancy. Nothing but an operation will straighten the legs. I have never seen the book you mention.

Dog Bite

My little girl was bitten on the face by a dog when she was six years old. She is now 8 years old. Is there any danger of bad after-effect, say five years after such a bite? (Mrs. M. A.)

ANSWER—No.

Disinfecting Questionable Drinking Water

Once you told of some chemical which one could carry on a vacation trip to purify drinking water. Please print the particulars again. (W. L. L.)

ANSWER—Some chlorine compound is used. A good one known as Halazone is obtainable in tablet form. One tablet dissolved in a quart of water will destroy typhoid or other germs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bretschneider went to Milwaukee for a week's visit with friends.

Dr. J. E. Davis, the new pastor of the Methodist church, had moved into the Methodist parsonage and expected to be settled within a few days.

Mrs. Mamie Gross Wright, wife of Joseph Wright, the ball player, died at the home of her parents at Kaukauna at the age of 24 years.

Wolves were rampant all over the northern part of Marinette county.

The hardware firm of Stark & Tesch moved into its new building at the corner of Washington and Appleton streets.

Five thousand pounds of fish confiscated by deputy game wardens were sold to consumers at reduced prices and nearly every family in the city had a fish supper.

Agent E. E. Dunn announced that on account of the enormous cost of the work, the price of the Standard Dictionary was to be increased about one-third after the first of the year.

Mrs. C. F. Conkey was painfully injured by a fall in the doorway of W. L. Rhoads' grocery store. She was attended by Dr. J. R. Kelly.

Prof. W. D. Gibson filled the pulpit of the Baptist church at Neenah the previous Sunday and delivered an eloquent sermon.

TODAY'S POEM

(By Edmund Vance Cooke)

THE TEMPLE

"Now, a curse on the tricks of their pollies,
And a shame to their sordid rule;
I am made their goat by my futile vote;
I am dimmed in their knavish school.

"I shall quit them all in their selfish brawl;
I shall spit on their foolish pride;
Let them wallow and itch in their swinish ditch;
I shall pass on the other side."

It was some such word which, I think, I heard
Flot out of your hearty heart.
Yet I know, in my bones, you fling your stones,
Because you have shirked your part.

On this temple of ours, with its spires and towers,
We are all of the working guild,
And to put in our licks throwing hard-baked bricks
Means fewer bricks used—to build!

Presidential Campaigns

By Frederic J. Haskin

XIX. The McKinley-Bryan Race of 1896

Washington, D. C.—The hardest fought political battle of American history was the campaign of 1896 in which William McKinley of Ohio vanquished William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. The fact that McKinley was re-elected with ease in his second campaign against Bryan, and that the Republican majorities of 1896 look so great on paper, has caused many men of short memory to believe that McKinley won his first election without great difficulty.

In that year the Democratic nominee, Mr. Bryan, made the most remarkable speaking campaign ever undertaken by anyman. In the same year, the Republican campaign manager, Mr. Hanna, spent five times as much money as had ever been spent before in a presidential race. The Republican campaign was conducted with such consummate skill that the name of Mark Hanna will live for years as that of the best political general the country has produced.

The year 1896 was a year of political revolution. Both of the leading parties underwent great changes, and the number of independent voters was increased a thousand fold. Mr. Cleveland's second administration began with the country on the verge of a financial crash. The blow descended and the panic of 1893 was on. The money question, which both parties had so carefully sidestepped for so many years, was presented in such a way that the administration could not avoid taking a position. Mr. Cleveland and his cabinet decided to place the country squarely on the gold standard, and to disregard the petty sops which had been thrown to silver. The Treasury regulations accomplished this purpose long before the McKinley administration came in.

Democrats in Control
For the first time since the first part of Buchanan's administration the Government was in the control of the Democrats, that party having the President and a majority in both Houses of Congress. Mr. Cleveland called Congress together and urged the repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman Act, which would finally "demonetize" silver. His party did not agree with him on that subject, and it was with the greatest difficulty that his purpose was accomplished.

President Cleveland had reform and an exemplar of civil service reform and was opposed to "unbusiness activity" in politics, but he went to the extreme of the use of patronage as a club to drive the repeal bill through Congress. Even then, it was done only by the help of eastern Republican votes. It left his party hopelessly divided.

The Democratic landslide which re-elected Cleveland was the result of popular disapproval of the McKinley Tariff Bill of 1890. After the terrific fight on the silver purchasing clause, the Democrats began a "free trade" tour. He did not then possess the savvy of his later years, but he was mighty in earnest. No other man has ever aroused the enthusiasm which he created in that campaign. He spoke to over five million people, making over a thousand separate speeches. In the first part of the campaign he travelled in ordinary day coaches, the railroads making it as hard for him as possible. Toward the end of the campaign the railroads refused to carry him, and he had to travel in a private car. He was without money and in his great canvass was sometimes forced to borrow the price of a ticket to the next stopping place.

Against this terrific campaign, which seemed to be sweeping the country for the Democrats, Mr. Hanna planned the great "campaign of education." The farmers of the agricultural states east of the Mississippi were induced to believe that the election of Bryan would mean the destruction of their property. All of the wealth of the country was back of Hanna—he had millions to spend and he knew how to do it.

Careful canvasses taken two months before the elections showed that such states as Ohio and Indiana were for Bryan. The work that was done to turn that defeat into the overwhelming victory of November was due to the political sagacity of Marcus A. Hanna.

Bryan's appeals to the people of every section, the enormous popularity of his personality and the righteousness of his campaign, on the one side, and the efforts of the Republicans to reach every voter with campaign literature and personal argument on the other side, resulted in a widespread popular interest in politics such as had never been known.

While the campaign was decisive, and while it practically settled the money question for all time, defeat did not diminish the popularity of the Democratic standard-bearer, George Harrison. He was elected high in the councils of his party. McKinley was chosen President and his administration witnessed the return of prosperity, the greatest the country has ever known. After all, not the least among the Republican assets of 1896 was the fact that the panic of 1893 came during a Democratic administration.

Other officers are H. C. Berndt, Fond du Lac, vice president; Miss Clara Geigler, Green Bay, recording secretary; George Harting, Kaukauna, treasurer; Fred Steube, Green Bay, E. C. Goettman, Oshkosh, and Don E. Little, Menasha, directors.

The purposes of this organization, as set forth in by-laws and constitution adopted at the organization meeting, are to wage an educational campaign and to install standardized cost accounting systems in all member offices. H. C. Hoffman, Chicago, an expert accountant employed by the national organization, is already at work in the valley on this plan.

Organization was effected through the efforts of K. A. Estey, organizer for the national association assigned to Wisconsin, who has been working in the valley for several weeks. The new association is about ready to start functioning. A salaried secretary who will devote his entire time to the work, will be employed in the near future.

it took longer to write the first geography than it did to create the world.

According to our ad-man it would take longer to describe these Fall suits than it did to manufacture them—and you would be tired out listening to the acres of adjectives that he would have to employ to do a good workmanlike job.

You can't wear description—not this time of year.

One of the most annoying stains to remove from table linen is that of coffee with cream.

As soon as possible after the cloth is stained try to remove the spot. First cover with powdered borax. Then spread the stain over a bowl and pour boiling water through the stain. A teakettle is a good utensil to use for the boiling water as it is easy to handle. The water should be poured from a height of 12 to 18 inches. Clear coffee stains will usually "come out" by pouring boiling water alone through them.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Pears, cereal with top milk, toast, marmalade, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Tomatoes filled with eggs, corn muffins, apple charlotte, tea.

DINNER—Tomato bisque, baked fish, string beans, sliced cucumbers, peach pie, coffee.

My Own Recipes
The required amount of milk is sometimes rather difficult to introduce into the diet of grown people unless they will drink milk at luncheon. By serving cream soups for dinner, milk is added to the diet. With the addition of milk some other food may be eliminated and a nourishing balanced diet maintained.

TOMATOES FILLED WITH EGGS
4 large tomatoes.
4 eggs.
8 tablespoons cream.
butter.
salt and pepper.

Dip tomatoes in boiling water and remove skins. Cut a slice off the top of each tomato. Remove seeds. Break an egg in each tomato. Fill with cream. Cover with the slice. Put tomatoes in buttered ramekins and bake ten or fifteen minutes in a hot oven. Remove tops, season with salt and pepper and a dot of butter. Serve at once.

APPLE CHARLOTTE
3 cups sliced apples.
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
elderberry or currant jelly
thin slices of bread

Pare and core apples. Cook over a quick fire with sugar, butter and cinnamon until tender. Remove crust from bread. Spread very sparing on both sides with butter. Line the bottom and sides of a small, shallow, oblong bread pan with the buttered bread. Put alternate layers of the apple mixture and jelly. Cover with buttered bread and bake in a hot oven till brown. Turn out on a platter and slice to serve.

FARMERS RUSH WORK ON 1920 CROP OF BEETS

Farmers in the town of Greenville are busy digging and topping the sugar beet crop in preparation for shipment to the factories at Green Bay and Menominee, Mich. They expect the crop to average eight or ten tons to the acre, which is not as large as would have been possible if there had been more rain during the last two months. They are to receive a guaranteed price plus a bonus depending on market conditions for the beets.

POLES FALL WHEN STRUCK BY TRUCK

Mail Truck and Touring Car Figure in Collision Early Today.

A truck owned by the Charles Herman garage and driven by Oscar Pubs, 951 Union street, was badly wrecked in a collision with C. S. Dickinson's automobile at the corner of Oneida and Harris streets early Tuesday morning. Pubs had his tongue cut and suffered a bruise on his chin. Mr. Dickinson was unhurt. The truck was proceeding north on Oneida street, bound for the Chicago and Northwestern depot to carry mail for the postoffice. The Dickinson car approached from the east on Harris street and neither driver saw the other in time to avert the collision. The truck was jammed against a pole that supports the trolley wires, breaking it off and also breaking off the pole holding the school limit warning sign. The sudden strain on the wires also caused a pole about half a block away to break off.

The truck was almost demolished. Two wheels were broken off completely. The body was partially wrecked and the windshield broken. Pubs was taken to a physician's office where several stitches were taken in his tongue. Only minor damage was done to the Dickinson machine.

DOCTOR INJURED WHEN HIS AUTO OVERTURNS

Dr. J. B. MacClaren injured his back when his car turned turtle Sunday near Plymouth. Dr. MacClaren was returning from a trip in the west. Dr. MacClaren climbed out the window of the overturned car and walked to the village. The top of the machine was quite badly damaged.

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH
Find Deb in Serious Mood Before a Picture of Jim

News from the honeymooners came next day—unpleasant news. Deborah was with me when Chrys came over with the letter.

At one of the summer resorts Ann had met Midget, one of her mother's movie acquaintances. Midget is the famous miniature edition of Kellerman. One day when Jim had gone off in a yacht, Ann tried some of Midget's stunts in the water, and had gone beyond her depth, and lost her head, and it had taken the life-savers some long anxious minutes to restore her to consciousness. Jim wrote that he was bringing her home.

"Ann certainly is running true to form," was Chrys' comment. "I suppose Jim is worn out watching her antics." She paused, and remembering the Ives escapade, she added with the sarcasm a sister is privileged to use, "I do hope Jim never has to save her from anything more disgraceful than drowning."

I happened to look at Deborah. There was in her pretty violet eyes that confused look which is foreign to her ordinary comprehending glance. She threw up her chin as one does when discarding a harassing mood and exclaimed:

"Let's decorate the house for them girls! Let's make it a bower of roses!"

"Lovely!" Chrys agreed, but I didn't feel especially enthusiastic. I didn't want Deborah, for her own peace of mind, to wander in Ann's Eden. I knew Deb had no idea of what an ordeal she had planned for herself.

Next morning we three girls set to work to distribute Jappe's roses all over Jim's house. Quite thoughtlessly, it seemed to me, Chrys, who, as on all strenuous occasions, had assumed charge, sent Deborah upstairs with some bride roses for the vases in Ann's boudoir. And I soon followed with baskets of the marvelous white sweet peas which are Jappe's latest and proudest triumph.

The thick rugs deadened the sound of my footsteps; or perhaps Deborah was so absorbed in her own thoughts that she did not hear me. At least when I reached Ann's room, Deborah did not turn around. She was standing before a picture of Jim in the uniform of a private. It had been taken the week he left for the army. Deborah looked like some sweet saint who had been placing roses before a shrine. It seemed to me. I felt that she ought to be shocked out of her meditation. Her emotion was pure waste, the sort of indulgence which destroys health.

I went up to her, put an arm around her. She spoke first:

"I had one of those photos. I—I sent it back to Jim! Now I'm sorry!" she confessed.

"It's the best he ever had taken," I said.

"Jim was wearing that uniform the day he left for training camp. That day he tried to tell me something which I wanted to hear," Deborah said as if she were speaking of one who had long since died. "Jane—I stopped him! Do you understand? I was hysterical. Actually, I cried and I laughed—but I wouldn't let Jim say what I was dying to hear him say!"

"I do understand," I said. "I know that young girls avoid—and postpone a proposal—sometimes!"

"Now I'm older. It seems that I prevented Jim, of all men, from saying what—he will never say again!" I kissed Deb. I wanted to say, "Your mother didn't bring you up right," but, of course, that wouldn't do.

It occurred to me, however, that Jim had fallen prey to a girl who had probably done more than her share of the wooing. I had an inkling at last of why Jim had eloped.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

RED CROSS MAKES SPLENDID RECORD

Waupaca County Chapter Is Carrying on Meritorious
Work in New London.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—To those who are interested in what is being done with Red Cross funds now in treasury, it will be of interest to know that the Waupaca County Chapter of the American Red Cross has in the last six months conducted twenty-seven different classes in hygiene and care of the sick. Fifty-six women are enrolled in these classes and there have been many visitors. Assistance has been given to 25 families and 25 cases are on file now for assistance. The Red Cross has sent in 244 claims for Wisconsin state bonuses. Fifty-four soldiers have been assisted in filing their compensation claims. In all assistance in some form has been rendered to 524 soldiers. Several needy children were given surgical attention; some who had tubercular bone trouble were given medical attention. A correspondence course on how and why writing was given to one boy, and several girls were given courses of sewing and food study, and home making course. The instruction in dietetics will be continued by the Red Cross for two months beginning at Chiltonville. Classes in first aid are also scheduled for the winter months throughout the rural districts. The Wolf River Dairy company, recently organized, which has taken over the Knapskin Bottling Works, and will convert it into an ice cream and pasteurized milk factory. The company will erect an ice house just north of its present building and will store their own ice supply. Work has already commenced in converting the portion of the Knapskin brewery into the ice cream plant.

Members of the Girls' club are fitting up their club rooms very cozily for the winter months. They are to have a stove in their reception room for the long winter evenings when they can have fudge parties, marshmallow roasts, corn popping and other evening festivities. A sewing machine will be added to the equipment. The regular annual meeting took place at the club rooms in the Commercial Hotel Monday evening at which new officers were elected.

The Domestic girls of the local High school held a popcorn and doughnut sale this week. A team of horses owned by Herman Smith, standing north of the Crispy store on St. John's street Monday, became frightened and ran away and before they could be stopped they had collided with a car on the corner of St. John's and Mill streets. The car, owned by Claire Prahl, was badly damaged. The driver, Mr. Smith was in the Crispy store when the team started to run.

Fond du Lac's Request to War Department Means Revival of Boat Shipping.

Fond du Lac.—Fond du Lac may have a harbor. Capt. F. S. Skinner and Engineer John A. B. Tompkins of the Milwaukee engineering district of the United States war department made a trip of inspection to Lago harbor and went over the situation carefully with a view of making recommendations to the government relative to an appeal for a harbor of refuge at that point. Cursory measurements that were taken indicated that the proposed harbor will be between 700 and 800 feet in length and about 150 to 200 feet wide. The channel would be dredged to a depth of from eight to ten feet. In years past Lake Winnebago has been the scene of navigation activity. Passenger steamers plied over the waters from port to port, while freighters moved from Green Bay up the Fox river to Neenah, and thence to various lake ports, carrying merchandise. With their present values on transportation, it is believed that with denunciations stolen, recently purchased here, making several trips weekly from this city to Green Bay and return, bringing back freight from that lake port, that the price of coal and other commodities can be cut down.

MEDFORD IS LIGHTLESS; WATER SUPPLY LOW

Medford.—Lightless nights will prevail in Medford for an indefinite period, owing to a breakdown at the Medford light and heating plant. A new unit is being installed at the power house, but an essential part of the machinery has not arrived though shipped three weeks ago. The old engine broke down and everything dependent on electric power is at a standstill.

Dealers were busy supplying people with kerosene lamps and candles. Not only lightless nights, but waterless mornings, disturb the people of this city. The long continued drought has made the water supply meager, the shortage being especially noticeable in the morning as the pumps are not being used any more than is necessary.

TURIN WORKERS DO NOT WANT REVOLT

But These Same Men Are Skeptical About Premier's Settlement.

(By Milton Bronner.)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Turin, Italy.—Premier Giolitti has proposed new laws that may satisfy labor leaders of Italy, but in the last days of September I found most of Italy's big factories still in possession of the workers.

Chignoli, secretary of the Chamber of Labor here, sits in his office and receives daily reports of the work of his labor army.

"We are not revolutionists," he told me. "That is, the majority of us are not. Speaking for myself, and the leaders, I know we don't want to overthrow the government and the king, though we have heard strange stories that Premier Giolitti wants Italy a republic and himself the first president. Most of the industrial plants have raw material for several months and we shall hold the plants well into November until we see just what the future holds for us."

I visited the gigantic Fiat automobile factory and talked with the blue overalls worker who had been elected director by his comrades.

This plant is the complete Italian version of Soviet government.

The only change in the office where I saw this laborer-manager, was a decorated door with the Bolsheviki emblem of the hammer and sickle and the Italian version of the motto: "He who will not work shall not eat."

There were placards in the factory declaring, "Viva la Lenin" and "Viva la Russia," and cartoons of profiteers.

The workman-director told me that there are more than 12,000 men in the factory, working two shifts—from 6 to 2 and 2 to 10—each day. He said there was enough raw material for two months' operation.

The factory is turning out 40 cars a day and the workmen are punching time clocks as before. The Ford plant "has nothing on" this plant for fine equipment. There are the best English, French, Italian, German and American machines.

The workmen fondled their tools while they explained to me how the delicate machine parts were polished and finished. They reminded me of mothers proud of their babies.

No Fake About It

There is no fake about the production being secured. I saw great piles of parts and watched others being made. It couldn't have been a staged performance.

The only workers who deserted the plants were the designers and engineers, but this did not hinder the workers, for there were plenty of blue prints of the latest models from which they could work. I even saw men at work in the experimental rooms where research work is done.

TO WORK FOR BETTER CHEESE MARKETING

Fond du Lac.—The Fond du Lac county farm bureau will devote its energies to the establishment of better marketing conditions for cheese, better grading and larger returns for the producer. Such was the decision of the executive committee at a conference held here. Committee meetings will be held every Tuesday evening to take up the problems of producers. R. R. Runke, field secretary for the county, and Matthew Michels, dairy expert to the state division of market, conferred with the Wisconsin "Producers' federation at Plymouth recently. A report is wanted on the progress which has been made on the new organization of producers which the federation is to head. Organization work is to be speeded up, with first missionary work in the state to be done in Fond du Lac county.

RAIL SHIPMENTS MUST PREVENT COAL FAMINE

Ashland.—Soft coal receipts at the port of Ashland will be short about 150,000 tons at the close of the season, or one full month short, the deficiency representing about one month's receipts. The normal season's receipts are about 700,000 tons, and the receipts up to the beginning of October are 435,000 tons. Last year was far short of being a normal year, the shortage being largely due to strikes, and as a consequence the coal docks were bare this spring. The same condition existed at the twin ports of Duluth and Superior, where the receipts are about 45 per cent of the normal. The shortage on the docks at the opening of the season together with the shortage all season means that the railroads will have to be depended on next winter, to furnish fuel.

THINK OSHKOSH YEGGS EYED STEVENS POINT

Stevens Point.—That the three men now in jail at Oshkosh on suspicion that they were the perpetrators of the daring daylight robbery of the Oshkosh Exchange bank two weeks ago, paid a visit to Stevens Point following the "job" at Oshkosh, is fairly well established. That the trio may have been looking over the ground for the purpose of ascertaining what the prospects were for pulling off a holdup here is also believed. James King, one of the alleged band-

THREE CONVINCED JUDGE THAT DRINKS HAD 'KICK'

Stevens Point.—Testimony of three witnesses, that wine of peeps which they purchased from John Droske of Amherst village had a "kick" in it, resulted in the conviction of Droske when his case was tried in County court before Judge W. F. Owen. Torger Swanson, Ed. Johnson and Theodore Borgen all testified that they believed it to be intoxicating. Emmet Cooney related that three drinks had given him a headache. Droske, who conducts a soft drink establishment at Amherst, was charged with selling intoxicating liquor in violation of state law. He was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $25.95.

It is believed to have been the man assigned by the gang to get a line on local conditions. A man answering his description attempted to sell a Liberty bond at the First National bank here and later was discovered sitting up the Citizens bank.
Men believed to be E. G. Rogers and C. L. Turner, the other two alleged bandits, purchased a box of shells for a 44-caliber revolver at a local hardware store the same day. The men are believed to have gone by car from here to Chippewa Falls, where they, with three women who posed as their wives, were arrested.

BABY CAN WALK AGAIN AFTER MOWER ACCIDENT

Fond du Lac.—After having had her feet in plaster cast for two months, Florence Baerwald, 2 year old daughter of William Baerwald of the town of Herman, is able to walk again. The girl had her feet nearly severed by a mower driven by her father two months ago. The father was engaged in cutting oats and the child wandered into the oat field. The father did not see his daughter and his first intimation that something was wrong came when he heard her scream. The teeth of the mower had almost amputated the little feet. The child was rushed to the hospital here, where every means known to surgical skill was resorted to avoid amputation and save the feet. The cast was removed and it was found that both feet were in splendid condition.

MANY NEW FACES IN CONGRESS NEXT YEAR

Large Number of Senators and Representatives in Danger of Losing.

(By Harry B. Hunt)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington.—There will be a lot of new faces in the United States Senate as a result of the election Nov. 2, no matter whether Republicans or Democrats win the presidency.

For, of the 32 senators whose terms expire March 4 next, seven—four Democrats and three Republicans—either withdrew from the race for re-election or were defeated for re-nomination.

Of the remaining 25, only 13—seven Democrats and six Republicans—may be set down as definitely certain of election. The other 12, evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats, become the storm center around which the fight for control of the next Senate is chiefly waged.

Not Probable
Although the Republican congressional campaign committee in its publicity handouts predicts an increase of eight Republican senators, giving the G. O. P. a majority of 17 in the Upper House, it is admitted at headquarters here that this prediction is based upon extreme possibility, not reasonable probability.

Democrats, on the other hand, are insisting that, irrespective of the vote for president, the senatorial contest is bound to be virtually a standoff, with a bare chance existing that the present Republican majority of one may be changed to a Democratic majority of the same figure.

It is by no means impossible, they maintain, that Harding, if elected, may be faced in the next Senate by just such a Democratic majority as the Republicans opposed to Wilson in the present Senate.

This, they say, would be poetic justice, though certainly not productive of governmental harmony.

The seven senators already assured of retirement are:

Democrats: Core, Oklahoma; Kerby, Arkansas; Smith of Georgia, and Thomas, Colorado.

Republicans: Gronna, North Dakota; Harding, Ohio; Sherman, Ill.

Gore, Kirby, Smith and Gronna all were defeated for re-nomination; Thomas and Sherman voluntarily withdrew, and Harding became his party's presidential standard-bearer.

Certain Winners
Members rated as definitely assured of re-election are:

Democrats: Fletcher, Florida; Gay,

POLE GENERAL STARTS NEW "FIUME" SQUABBLE

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Europe had another "Fiume" today in the capture of the Lithuanian capital, Vilna, by hastily organized troops under the Polish general, Zeligowski.

Zeligowski, officially repudiated by Polish authorities, was said to have been elected "commander" by Polish residents of Vilna. The Lithuanian government withdrew to Kovno.

The Lithuanian legion here bitterly denounced Poland, claiming Zeligowski's coup was instigated by his government.

Louisiana, Henderson, Nevada; Overman, North Carolina; Smith, South Carolina; Underwood, Alabama.

Republicans: Cummins, Iowa; Curtis, Kansas; Dillingham, Vermont; Moses, New Hampshire; Penrose, Pennsylvania; Wadsworth, New York.

The new political lineup, as a result of the changes insured by the seven assured vacancies, appears likely to favor Republicans rather than Democrats.

The Democrats admit little or no hope of winning a Senate seat either in North Dakota, Ohio or Illinois.

On the other hand, Republicans are confident they will elect Samuel Nicholson to succeed Thomas as senator from Colorado, and are talking, without much hope, however, of beating Scott Ferris in Oklahoma with Congressman John W. Harrell.

At best, then, according to the real, not the openly expressed, opinion on both sides, the situation narrows down to the fight for 12 seats admitted to be doubtful, now evenly divided between the two parties. These are held by:

Democrats: Beckham, Kentucky; Chamberlain, Oregon; Johnson, South Dakota; Nugent, Idaho; Phelan, California; Smith of Maryland.

Republicans: Brandegee, Connecticut; Jones, Washington; Lenroot, Wisconsin; Smoot, Utah; Spencer, Missouri; Watson, Indiana.

Hard Licks for Three

Although forcing the fighting against all six Democratic members above, Republicans have little hope of unseating Beckham, Chamberlain or Nugent. They are confident, however, that Governor Peter Norbeck will beat Johnson in South Dakota and that Samuel Shortridge, with the assistance of H. Johnson, will unseat Senator Phelan in California. They hope, but scarcely expect, to displace John Walter Smith of Maryland with O. E. Weller.

On the other hand, Republicans privately admit that hard licks will have to be put in to save Lenroot in Wisconsin, Spencer in Missouri, Jones in Washington and particularly Smoot in Utah.

Defeat in any other state on the doubtful list means the loss of a senator. Defeat in Utah would mean the loss of an important organization cog as well.

Calumet Baking Powder is pure in the can. It is made in the largest, cleanest, most modern Baking Powder Factories on earth—only of such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by United States Food Authorities.

KEEP your baking costs down
HERE'S THE BEST WAY—USE CALUMET BAKING POWDER

It's pure in the baking. Calumet never fails to produce the sweetest and most palatable of nourishing foods.

It has more than the ordinary leavening strength. You use less of it. That's one reason it is the most economical of all leaveners.

Another reason is—it is sold at a moderate price—you save when you buy it.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Waft Recipe
2 1/4 cups sifted pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 tablespoons of melted butter, 2 eggs beaten separately. Then mix in the regular way.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

NOTHING TOO GOOD FOR INDIAN HEROES

Spectacular Feats Catch Huge Crowd of 27,000 Fans Off Balance.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Plans for the heroic solid gold statue of Stan Coveleskie, to be erected by grateful Cleveland citizens in the square, were changed today to provide for a platinum, diamond-studded group of Coveleskie, Bill Wambegans, Elmer Smith and Jim Bagby.

This new "big four" because of their spectacular performance in the world series, will go down in local history as greater than Mark Hanna or Tom Johnson. They have proven the bat, glove and throwing arm are greater than either the pen or the sword.

Coveleskie pitched his way into the hearts of every Clevelander when he turned in the two victories the Indians had scored over the Dodgers up to yesterday.

The other three heroes crashed into the baseball hall of fame during yesterday's rout of Brooklyn.

First came Smith's home run with three men on bases—the only time it was ever accomplished in a world series. Then Bagby, the pitcher, drove out a circuit smash with two on. As a grand finale, Wambegans pulled off an unassisted triple play at second base—another "first time in history" stunt so far as world championship games are concerned.

In each instance these plays were so unexpected and startling that the great crowd of 27,000 was caught off its mental balance.

The fans were all set yesterday for organized rooting such as they played in the opening game here Saturday, but the sensational plays upset their schedule and turned an orderly demonstration into a madhouse scene.

Of the thousands of persons in the stands there apparently were but few who immediately grasped the significance of Wambey's triple play with Pete Kilguff on second and Elmer Krueger on first as the result of singles, Burleigh Grimes smashed a drive toward right center. At the crack of the bat a groan went up from the home fans. It looked like a sure two-bagger. Then Wambey leaped high and speared the ball with his gloved hand. Both Kilguff and Krueger had started with the pitch. The Indian second baseman moved to the sack retiring Kilguff, who was crossing the third base sack. Krueger ran into his arms as Wambey stepped forward to meet him.

There was a breathless silence, occasioned by Wambey's remarkable catch. Then shouts went up of "double play, double play."

Finally someone screamed "triple play." The cry was taken up, then was drowned in a mighty chorus of shouts which continued for several minutes.

The Indians swarmed about Wambey as he started for the dugout, shaking his hand and patting his broad back. Bagby's home run was a bit of sweet revenge for what he considered an insult by Grimes. Johnston was on third and one was out when Steve O'Neill, the slugging catcher, came up. With the idea of getting him out of the way to work on Bagby—on the theory a pitcher is usually a weak hitter—Grimes deliberately passed O'Neill. The idea that anybody should consider him an easy mark riled him. He gritted his teeth, took a toe hold and swung. The ball sailed into the temporary bleachers in center field.

Smith's mighty smash came at a time when even some of the Cleveland fans began to fear he was a flivver as a "money player."

He had batted well through the American league season but up to yesterday he had failed to show anything in the world series. Chuck Jamieson got a lucky single through Ed. Konetchy. Wambey got a hit through Sheehan. Tris Speaker tried to sacrifice and Grimes slipped fielding his hunt. Speaker getting credit for a hit. There were two strikes on Smith when he connected. The ball cleared the high

WOULD SELL SHIPS TO FOREIGN BUYERS

American Shipping Interests Make Small Offers for U. S. Ships.

Washington, D. C.—Sale of the government's emergency built fleet of wooden ships to foreign buyers was under consideration Sunday night at the shipping board but definite action on such a plan probably will be deferred officials said, until President Wilson appoints the new board created by the merchant marine act.

Built at an estimated cost of $170 a deadweight ton, three attempts in recent months to sell the ships to American buyers have resulted in only four offers—the highest at about $12 a ton—for the fleet of 285 steamers aggregating more than one million dead weight tons.

Sale to foreign buyers would require, under the act, the approval of five members of the shipping board. At present there are only two members in office, which led officials to the conclusion that the matter would await appointment of the new board.

It has been suggested, however, that the board might sell the ships to American purchasers for resale to foreign buyers, which requires only the approval of the board as now constituted.

Eight field wall by several feet and crashed through a big plate glass window in a store on the other side of Lexington avenue. The home run turned 27,000 normal humans into that many raving maniacs.

Smith and Bagby will have enough suits, shoes, hats, shirts, jewelry, cutlery, firearms, etc., to stock a department store as a result of their homers. The goods were prizes offered by local merchants for hits of that calibre.

EX-SERVICE MEN WANT MEMORIAL

Madison Legion Members Want Monumental Building in One of City's Parks.

Madison — A suitable building, which will commemorate the events and ideals of the great war was decided upon as the most fitting memorial to the soldiers, sailors and marines of Madison, by the legionnaires of William B. Caira post No. 57.

The committee on selecting a soldier memorial submitted the following resolution:

"We recommend that it be the sense of this association that a memorial should be in the nature of a building or monument, placed in a city park, suitable for housing a war collection and of a design commensurate with the dignity of the event which it is to commemorate."

"To make our position perfectly clear the committee would like very much to see the city establish a park along the bay of Lake Monoma and place in that park a memorial building recommended in this report. However, we do not believe that funds which might be available for a memorial to the soldiers, sailors and marines of this war should be used for the purpose of maintenance of a park unless a suitable monumental building was provided for at the same time."

After considerable debate resolution was passed as read.

SOVIETS' FAILURE DAUNTS GERMANS
Radicalism in Germany Suffers Set-back From Russian Fizzle.

By Carl D. Grant
By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin.—Radicalism has had a severe setback in Germany.

This setback to radicalism has resulted from a campaign of education over the true situation in Russia brought back by the more conservative of the German socialist delegates to the Moscow conference.

They have shown that Russia is no workmen's paradise. By concrete evidence, they have convinced many German radicals that socialism and Bolshevism are not the cure-all they once believed. They have shown how a group of German workers who went to Russia under misapprehensions have now nothing but disillusionment and homesickness.

They have been ill-treated, and are nearly starved. And this story has left its imprint on the German worker.

It is destined to lead to a split in the independent socialist party at its October convention, when the communists will go into one group and the more conservative into another.

On the other hand, the reactionaries are active and becoming more unified. An organization with the title "Or-gesch" (Organization Escherich) has been formed with branches over the whole land, whose purpose is to keep intact the Einwohnerwehr though not under that name.

This body has hidden its arms, and proposes to hang on to them. In case of need, the old Einwohnerwehr members would be called out, but as Or-gesch men, included in this group are landowners, factory owners, and in general the reactionary elements of the community. It is particularly strong in East Prussia among the Junkers.

and has a strong standing in Bavaria, Pomerania, and other places where the opposition to disarmament is strong.

The possibility of a "Putsch" from this direction is ever present.

Naturally, too, there is always a chance of the communists starting something. But, the split in the independent ranks and the repulse of the red Russian brothers has worked as a cold douche upon the hotheads who want to do some more world-revolving in Germany.

The main danger from the "left" side lines in the prospect of much unemployment during the winter. Hunger and worklessness may cause an upset of serious proportions, but at the moment the prospects for redness and bloodshed have been considerably reduced.

A new kind of wood, called possum wood, is being imported from South America for the manufacture of packing and similar boxes.

WIDOW SAYS GRAVE WAS NOT MOLESTED

Eau Claire People Mystified by Events in Life Insurance Case.

Eau Claire, Wis.—Reports that the grave of Andrew McPhee, at Lake Nebagamon, had been disturbed recently, tending to bear out the theory that E. J. Sallstad of Eau Claire, who was supposed to have burned to death in a cottage fire at Lake Nebagamon early on the morning of Aug. 27, had taken some of the bones from this grave and had planted them in the cottage to give the impression that he had burned to death, were discounted Monday afternoon, when Mrs. McPhee, over the long distance telephone, denied that she had asked the coroner to dig up the remains to see if they had been tampered with.

She said it was a lot of newspaper talk, that her husband was buried on her own property at Lake Nebagamon and that she would not let anyone dig up the grave. She denied the grave had been molested.

Coroner Not to Act
William Dumas, Superior, coroner of Douglas county, said that he had not been requested by Mrs. McPhee to investigate the grave of her husband, but he had heard persistent reports that she was going to have him do so. However, unless she directed him to do so, he would not dig up the body to see if it had been disturbed.

Another chapter to the story was added on Monday when Fred Rooth, a Chippewa Falls bartender, who picked up a fight with Dorothy Anderson, or Dorothy Kingston, as she calls herself at Chippewa Falls, the girl in the case, who helped Dorothy pack her trunks the night before she left for the north with a man, resembling E. J. Sallstad in an auto, told what was in the trunks. In addition to a lot of fine ladies' wear, there were two suits of men's clothes, one a dark gray and another a dark brown; two suits of underwear, several pairs of men's socks, all packed in the big trunk, and several men's handkerchiefs.

Other Clothes Packed
In her handling another suit of men's clothes was packed, a dark gray. This would tend to show plans for an elopement with some man, it was pointed out.

Dorothy Anderson was last seen in Duluth at 10 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 27, several hours after the fire at Lake Nebagamon, when Sallstad is supposed to have burned to death, when she called at the express office for her trunks and had them sent to the union station. From that time on trace of her movements and that of her trunks has been lost.

Detectives of the insurance companies carrying insurance on E. J. Sallstad have been in Duluth trying to trace the direction of her movements after she left that city.

The widow, Mrs. Leone Sallstad, and the officers of the Multitone Manufacturing company, of which Sallstad was president, on Monday reiterated their belief that the bones found in the fire at Lake Nebagamon were those of Sallstad.

Around sawmills alone, it is said, 27,000,000 tons of sawdust is available from which 500,000,000 gallons of alcohol can be made.

Woman Surprises Her Friends

"After a spell of Typhoid Fever 7 years ago I began to suffer from indigestion and gas in my stomach and colic attacks. This gradually became so bad that my doctor advised an operation for gall stones. A friend advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy which I did with splendid results. My friends were astonished at my rapid improvement. I have no more bloating and can eat anything I wish." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—"Druggists Everywhere." adv.

MAILS' HOME TOWN ALL EXCITED OVER VICTORY

By United Press Landed Wire
San Francisco, Oct. 11.—"Duster" Mails' home town is all "hot up" over the way the Brooklyn Dodgers got their yesterday.

Duster was born near San Francisco. "Duster's" home is a pretty little place on the outside of the walls of the state penitentiary for which San Quentin, until now, has been chiefly famous.

Prisoners at the penitentiary yesterday joined in the cheers which went up when the score was flashed on the prison bulletin board.

Mare Island navy yard and Sacramento were other points which backed Mails to the limit.

Mails' father works at the navy yard and while the game was on dreadnaughts were forgotten.

Miss Mildred Homstad returned to Appleton Monday, after a two weeks' visit with her parents in Black River Falls.

Miss Magdalene Bestler returned to Appleton Monday after visiting her mother in Shiokton.

E. A. Walthers is a business visitor in Milwaukee.

William Biler of Neenah was here on business Monday.

Mrs. A. L. Griesner returned Monday from Milwaukee, where she attended the silver wedding of her sister, Mrs. Otto Matthe.

Warren Wright was in Appleton on business Monday.

E. E. Walmann returned from a business trip to Chicago Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beglinger were in Heilig of Milwaukee, is spending the week here on business.

F. Melcher of Marshfield, is spending several days here on business.

R. L. Spiering left Monday for his home at Crookston, Minn., after visiting for several days at the home of Jan F. Behnke.

Miss Sylvia Carlson of Stevens Point, was an Appleton visitor Monday.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and get the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DELEGATES HEAR OF RED CROSS WORK

Three Delegates Represent Outagamie County at Regional Conference.

Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. George Woelz of Appleton and Mr. Pugh of Kaukauna represented the Outagamie Red Cross chapter at the regional conference of the American Red Cross Tuesday at Stevens Point. One hundred fifteen representatives from 14 chapters attended. T. W. Allison, Chicago, director of civilian relief, central division, was chairman of the meeting. He explained the need of health education among the civilian population of the country and told how the Red Cross had co-operated with the government in time of war and had helped to make the general health in the army and navy 25 to 35 per cent better than the health of the rest of the nation.

Mr. Allison pointed out that the health instruction was most needed in small towns and rural communities. He urged the establishment of health centers, places where information on health subjects can be obtained, places where meetings can be held, and where the doctors of the community may hold conferences and clinics.

"There are 500,000 feeble minded children in the public school," declared Miss D. Twitchell, Chicago, supervisor of instructors in home hygiene and care of the sick. "Three hundred thousand small children die every year, mostly on account of ignorance on the part of the mother," continued Miss Twitchell. "Fifteen thousand children die every year of measles and 11,000 of whooping cough. Six hundred thousand people die every year, mostly with preventable diseases."

"There should be a woman in every home who is able to take a temperature correctly and count a pulse accurately, as well as administer first aid before the doctor arrives. The influenza epidemic emphasizes the need for courses in home nursing."

"The women are taking advantage of the opportunity to enroll in classes in home nursing under the supervision of the Red Cross. Last year certificates were issued to 30,000 women and girls who took the course and passed the examination."

M. S. McMullen of Chicago, roll call director, Central Division, said that the work of the Red Cross in caring for the soldiers is not ended and will not be ended until the last boy has been discharged from the army and is in his home community in the very best possible physical condition. There are 17,000 boys, many of the first to arrive in France now in the army of occupation in Germany. The Red Cross is doing the same work for these soldiers that it did for the boys in France. The Red Cross is giving the same care to the 26,000 wounded and dangerously ill soldiers in the hospital today that it gave the thousands who were in the hospitals during the war. The Red Cross will continue to help men in service of the United States wherever they may be."

"The membership of the Red Cross numbered 30,000,000 during the war, but has dropped to 10,000,000 at the present, according to A. Perry of Chicago, director of the Junior Red Cross. During the war the people gave 40,000,000 to the Red Cross and the Junior Red Cross alone made 16,000,000 articles for the soldiers valued at $10,000,000."

CASUALTY COMPANY IS SUING APPLETON MAN

The case of Maryland Casualty company vs. F. J. Harwood went to trial in circuit court Tuesday morning. The action concerns the car that Mr. Harwood damaged near Brighton beach a year ago at the time that Mrs. Jane Strange was injured. Mr. Harwood was on the witness stand when an adjournment was taken Tuesday morning to permit the jury to view the scene of the accident.

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Abundant!

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.

A 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!

STEINBERG VISITS REALTY BOARDS

State Secretary Returns From Trip to Northwestern Counties.

Samuel P. Steinberg, secretary for the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers, returned Monday morning from a five day inspection visit to the northwestern section of the state. He was accompanied on the trip by W. E. Webster, Hudson, president of the state association, and by T. B. Curtis of the Clark and St. Croix county boards.

The party made its first stop at Owen where addresses were delivered to the Clark County Real Estate board. Other addresses were delivered in Chippewa Falls, Spooner Superior and New Richmond. At Superior the visitors were guests of honor at a joint banquet by the Superior and Duluth realtors.

Mr. Steinberg passed through the forest fire region while on his trip. He saw the flames, approaching the little town of Bennett on his way north and when he reached Superior learned that the town had been destroyed.

Mr. Steinberg will leave next week on an inspection trip to real estate boards south of Appleton. He expects to be gone about a week. Efforts are being made to stimulate attendance at the state realtors convention to be held in Appleton next February.

MAY ROBSON JUST AS CLEVER AS EVER

Famous Actress Plays a Delightful Role in "Nobody's Fool."

May Robson, one of Appleton's favorite actresses, delighted a capacity audience in "Nobody's Fool" at Appleton Theatre Monday night. Miss Robson was as charming as ever and provoked her audience to as many laughs as in her palmist days.

"Nobody's Fool" was perhaps not as suitable a vehicle for the star as some of the attractions which she has appeared in here. The play, while very interesting and with a splendid

NATHAN WANTS NO MORE 'MOB' STUFF

New Yorker Admits Making Mistake When He Advertised for Mobbers.

New York—Want a mob? Then advise for it. But if you take Nathan Lipson's advice, you won't. Nat is off in his life.

As the story was told in Harlem, Nathan for reasons best known to himself, inserted seven advertisements in the city's leading men's former service magazine, calling to call Thursday morning to take part in a motion picture making. He offered wages of about $5 a day. Nathan made his first mistake when he first advertised for for his service men who average up fair in musky and second in advertising until.

900 Walling "Mobbers." At 6 o'clock Nathan arrived at the address specified, a hall used by the Harlem Tenants' league and as a socialist headquarters, and found a crowd of about nine hundred perfectly willing to mob or do anything else for $5.

At this point Nathan made his third mistake. Instead of paying out the $5 he is said to have gone about at tempting to collect $2.50 from each man. Something in the proceedings struck the crowd as slightly irregular but having been called to the spot to mob they decided to mob in any way free of charge.

"Mob" Enthusiastically. They made a rush for Nathan whereat the latter atoned for his past errors in judgment by dashing into the building and locking the door while the mob mobbed about outside with much abandon.

Somebody telephoned for the police and three detectives managed to equirm through the crowd and rescue the beleaguered Nathan, putting him under arrest on a charge of inserting misleading advertisements in a news paper. All the way to the station house they were escorted by an enthusiastic mob.

RUSSIANS EVASIVE IN ANSWER TO BRITISH

By United Press Leased Wire. London—The Russian government today returned a non-committal note to Lord Curzon's warning that the British fleet will attack soviet submarines said to have been seen in the Baltic Sea.

Foreign Minister Tchitcherine said the soviet representative in London, M. Krassin, was to receive instructions regarding the matter.

TROOPS IN READINESS TO FIGHT FOREST FIRE

By United Press Leased Wire. Duluth, Minn.—Duluth troops early today were ready to go into action against forest fires near Kelsey half way between here and Virginia. Several fires were reported about ten miles east, and about ten miles west of Kelsey.

The fires now are about thirty miles north of Carleton and Cloquet towns that suffered most in the forest fires two years ago.

Danger from forest fires in Douglas and Burnett counties, Wis. was minimized today by a shift in the wind. The wind now is blowing back over the areas already burned.

Model 620—The "Radcliffe". Here is a shoe that will suit the most exacting demands of style and comfort. It is a Blucher model of much dash and pep—developed in copy-right antique Russia call, so trim, so shapely, so wonderfully smart. There is good reason for its popularity.

Model No. 615—The "Chumny". A regular chum on a hike, a real companion in sports, this model is always on the best of terms with the out-door girl or woman. Of mahogany Russia calf, with its medium round toe and military heel, it's just the kind of shoe an active woman really can't get along without.

The subtle art of making the foot look smaller

What are the things that everybody admires and every woman wants for herself?

A pretty face, soft hair, a good figure, fine white hands—and shapely feet.

And so, because a woman knows how important they are, she wants lovely hats, stylish gowns, good looking gloves—and smart shoes.

Shoes that give her feet that small, trim look; that slender shapeliness so much desired. Shoes that keep their dainty lines; that make the feet appear always well-shod.

Natural, feminine desire! And now so easily attained! The secret is in shoes made to fit the foot in action.

What moving pictures show

The strip of moving picture film shows the foot in various positions of action. It illustrates how different your moving foot is from your foot at rest.

If a shoe is not made to accommodate itself to the different positions and motions of the foot, it is bound to be forced quickly out of shape.

The Red Cross Shoe made to fit the foot in action, has soft, snug, clinging lines that move naturally with every motion of the foot, not against it.

Its designers base their measurements upon a study of the moving foot as shown by hundreds of movie photographs. Then they test each style on live models in continued action, for weeks.

The secret of trim daintiness and lasting shoe style

The result is a shoe that retains its shapeliness and gives to the foot the charm of daintiness. And such comfort, too! There is no pressing nor cramping. It needs no "breaking in"—because it is made for action from the start.

Our display of smart new Red Cross Shoe models for Fall is now complete. Come in and try them on.

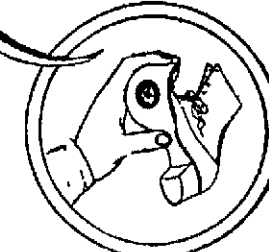

You will be delighted with the values offered. The lasting style, the comfort and wearing qualities of Red Cross Shoe models will mark a new experience in shoe satisfaction for you.
